Villa de Guadalupe
Mexico City

Since 1969 Our Lord has given public and universal messages to the world, through a Mexican nun whom He called His Portavoz (messenger). He commanded her to make these messages known to the whole world, so that every individual could offer reparation to Divine Justice and thus prevent a severe punishment that is near at hand.

The Portavoz was a nun belonging to the community of the Franciscan Minims of the Perpetual Help of Mary, located in the Villa de Guadalupe in Mexico City, near the shrine of Our Lady of Guadalupe. The Franciscan Minim nuns live on a piece of property named the Vergel (Garden) of the Immaculate Virgin of Guadalupe, located on a small mountain immediately adjoining Tepeyac Hill.

The Franciscan Minim Nuns were founded in Zamora, in the state of Michoacán, Mexico, in 1942, by María Concepción Zúñiga López, with the approval of the diocesan bishop. In this city the young order grew and flourished considerably. Through certain trials permitted by Divine Providence, the community was dissolved in 1951. After this it was re-established in Chilapa, state of Guerrero, Mexico, in 1964. In 1967, with the approval of the bishop of Chilapa, the sisters moved to the Vergel in Mexico City.

In 1970 the masculine branch, the Franciscan Minim priests and brothers, was founded in Chilapa, and in 1971 they moved to the Vergel in Mexico City, where they are in charge of the English-language publications of the Order.

When the Portavoz received the command to spread the messages throughout the world, the nuns published them in their monthly magazine «Estrella.» They were soon translated into other languages and spread in various countries. At present these messages are being distributed in many countries and are accomplishing much good. When they were first published in 1969, the Portavoz' identity was kept secret, but in 1974 it was made known to the public: she was the foundress herself, María Concepción Zúñiga López (1914-1979).

Over the years the Franciscan Minim Brothers have published several books about the revelations given to the Portavoz and other matters connected with them. If you would like to know more about them, we suggest you begin by reading the first volume of Messages from Heaven, which contains the universal messages (those given to the entire world), thus being the most important volume, in case you cannot acquire all seven. You could also order My Best Book, her autobiography, that covers her life from her birth in 1914 until 1963. If you would like to be informed regularly about the Work of Atonement and its role in the Church, you could subscribe to Reflections, our bimonthly magazine.

During many years Our Lord asked the Portavoz to seek a legion of victim souls. The Church has always had victim souls. In the past they were usually cloistered nuns or monks in convents or monasteries or hermits in the wilds of deserts and mountains, and their sufferings and sacrifices drew down from God the mercy the sinners of their times needed so badly. But never have there been so many people living in sin as there are today. That is why Our Lord is now seeking victim souls from among ordinary laymen and laywomen living in the world. When the legion of victim souls grows and increases, Divine Justice will be changed into love and pardon, and many sinners will be converted. The legion of victim souls is the solution that Our Lord is offering to solve the problems of today's world, and the way evil may be overcome with good.

We will be glad to answer any questions you may have, and to provide you with whatever publications you would like.

Sincerely yours in Christ,

Franciscan Minims

A Note about the Portavoz

THE Portavoz (Messenger) is the pseudonym of María Concepción Zúñiga López, a Mexican nun and foundress of the Franciscan Minims of the Perpetual Help of Mary. Since the age of 12 she received revelations from Heaven. In 1931 they were investigated and approved by Archbishop Pascual Díaz Barreto, Primate of Mexico, and in 1941 by Bishop Fulcheri of Zamora, Michoacán. In 1969 she received additional revelations, and Our Lord asked her to spread them everywhere. Volume I of the messages was published with the approval of the Bishop of Chilapa, her spiritual director, who also gave his "Imprimatur" to the book "Legion of Victim Souls."

PRAYER

to ask favors through the intercession of the Portavoz of Jesus in Mexico

(for private devotion only)

Oh, exalted Trinity, Who adorned with admirable natural and supernatural gifts the soul of Thy little Portavoz on this earth, elevating her to an intimate union with Thee and purifying her on the cross of suffering...we beg Thee, through her merits and through the love she now possesses to love Thee eternally in Thine adorable presence, to grant us the favor we humbly ask of Thee....

Finally, Blessed Trinity, we beg Thee to grant us the grace of seeing her raised one day to the honor of Thine Altars, for Thy glory and for the good of souls. Amen.
